MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

THROUGH: Executive Director

FROM:
Director, Office of External Affairs

SUBJECT: Invitation from Georgetown's Center for Strategic and International Studies

STAT

1. You both have been invited to attend a breakfast discussion concerning R&D funding hosted by Georgetown University's Center for Strategic and International Studies on 23 June in Room S-207 of the Capitol. As you will note on the attached correspondence, the Center has established a standing panel of experts to study and assess R&D and National Strength, focusing on the problems of relating science and engineering resources to the needs of the national security community. The Center is preparing a report which will be the topic of that breakfast discussion.

2. Several Senators (Glenn, Cohen, Mathias and Helms), Congressman Fuqua, and Secretaries Weinberger and Trent have been invited to attend. The invitation claims to be held under the auspices of Senator Jake Garn. After some checking, however, we have learned that Senator Garn will not be attending and the other invitees are as yet undecided. Consequently, I recommend that you decline the invitation and have my Public Affairs staff relay your regrets.

Director

Dear Bill:

Georgetown University's Center for Strategic and International Studies has, over the past year, placed a new emphasis on the pivotal role of science and technology in national and international affairs. The Center has established a standing panel of world-renowned experts to study and assess a broad range of issues in this area: their first formal report, R&D and National Strength, focuses on the problems of relating the science and engineering resources of the country to the needs of the national security community. We are publishing that report now, and it will be the subject of a Congressional breakfast discussion, under the kind auspices of Senator Garn. We would be delighted if you could attend on June 23, 1982, 8:30 a.m., Room S-207, The Capitol Building.

Please let us know if you can join us on this topic of profound policy importance. RSVP to Debra van Opstal: 887-0200 #369 or Ann Tennyson #239.

Sincerely,

David M. Abshire
Chairman
